

John W. “Woody” Ledford

With two sisters, two daughters, and two granddaughters in Girl Scouting, Woody’s interest and involvement with the organization now spans three generations. As a former troop co-leader, he has seen firsthand the dramatic impact that Girl Scout programs can have on the development of future community leaders. He has served as a member of Girl Scouts San Diego’s Finance Committee for nine years.

Woody has also been deeply involved with other civic and nonprofit organizations, including the San Diego History Center, San Diego Rotary Club, and Balboa Theatre Foundation. He believes firmly that our community’s culture can only be enhanced through “giving back”.

Woody graduated from National University and earned his CPA while working for West, Johnston, Turnquist & Schmitt. While at that firm, he worked on Girl Scouts San Diego’s annual audit.

He established his own practice in 1995 and enjoys assisting with individuals, nonprofits, and small businesses with tax, business and accounting matters. A native San Diegan, Woody has been blessed with a wonderful wife of 39 years, two married daughters and five grandchildren.
