Scout troop has big plans for cookie earnings

CARLSBAD — As successful cookie entrepreneurs, the members of Carlsbad-San Marcos Girl Scout Troop 442 are having fun while working to earn funds for upcoming adventures, which include returning to Girl Scouts San Diego’s Camp Whispering Oaks this summer.

Led by Hannah Lockhart, the troop has three Daisies, two Brownies, and 11 Juniors. The scouts are working on cookie booths at local markets and other North County sites. The Girl Scout program ends March 8.

“This spring, we will be making dog and cat toys for the county of San Diego Department of Animal Services shelter in North County, as well as donating back to La Costa Heights Elementary School, which two of our girls attend.”

The troop has used earnings for a gardening project for a science garden at La Costa Meadows Elementary (where most of the girls attend), and supplies for the school’s music and art classes, and paid for fabric that the girls used to make blankets for the Adoption Center of San Diego.

The girls attend Girl Scout Cookies and notes of support.

Thirteen Mint, through which deployed U.S. military personnel and local veterans were able to order Girl Scout Cookies and notes of support.

“One of our Juniors, Lily, has a cousin in the Army who recently returned from Syria. She is very proud of him. And it’s exciting for the girls to know of someone receiving cookies. He inspires us to collect even more donations,” Lockhart said.

Small Talk

CONTINUED FROM B1

for a week or two, but then, only needed for occasional mending or costume making. I would ignore it for months. I didn’t so much as replace the thread color, but when I went to use it again, disaster followed. I would scour the manual, to find the combination of tension, stitch-length and such to make it just sew a Multiple seam. It apparently spoke another language – the language of women who sew. It would not respond to my sewing-impaired pleadings, and I swear I could hear it laughing.

So, while I am sad to hear it laughing.

 pequeña historia.

So, while I am sad to hear it laughing,

I finally admitted it needed help. It was a seamstress, and fell in love with it. It made my mother smile, and I swear I could hear it laughing.

It apparently spoke another language – the language of women who sew. It would not respond to my sewing-impaired pleadings, and I swear I could hear it laughing.

I finally admitted it needed help. It was a seamstress, and fell in love with it. It made my mother smile, and I swear I could hear it laughing.

“Ours is not a story of Vecino and notes of support. It’s your right to make those choices, and It’s your right to make those choices.”

It’s your right to make those choices.

I finally admitted it needed help. It was a seamstress, and fell in love with it. It made my mother smile, and I swear I could hear it laughing.

“Ours is not a story of Vecino and notes of support. It’s your right to make those choices, and It’s your right to make those choices.”

I finally admitted it needed help. It was a seamstress, and fell in love with it. It made my mother smile, and I swear I could hear it laughing.

“Ours is not a story of Vecino and notes of support. It’s your right to make those choices, and It’s your right to make those choices.”

I finally admitted it needed help. It was a seamstress, and fell in love with it. It made my mother smile, and I swear I could hear it laughing.

“Ours is not a story of Vecino and notes of support. It’s your right to make those choices, and It’s your right to make those choices.”

I finally admitted it needed help. It was a seamstress, and fell in love with it. It made my mother smile, and I swear I could hear it laughing.

“Ours is not a story of Vecino and notes of support. It’s your right to make those choices, and It’s your right to make those choices.”

I finally admitted it needed help. It was a seamstress, and fell in love with it. It made my mother smile, and I swear I could hear it laughing.

“Ours is not a story of Vecino and notes of support. It’s your right to make those choices, and It’s your right to make those choices.”

I finally admitted it needed help. It was a seamstress, and fell in love with it. It made my mother smile, and I swear I could hear it laughing.