

Kevin Munkholm
Principal, Employee Benefits Division
Marsh McLennan Agency

Kevin joined Marsh McLennan Agency in 2002. He is a director in the Technology and Life Sciences Practice Group.

Kevin focuses his attention on building sustainable benefits programs, incorporating unique funding methods with consumer driven health plans. He is a tireless advocate for his clients, anticipating and responding to their unique business challenges while customizing benefits that concentrate on the long-term needs of their businesses.

Kevin developed and executed the Marsh McLennan Agency's Consumer Driven Healthcare strategy, as well as an educational campaign to prepare companies and their employees for the new ways in which healthcare is delivered. Additionally, he has advised carriers on developing programs to support the evolving needs of the unique industries he serves.

Kevin currently serves on the board of Access Youth Academy and is a member of BIOCUM's Human Resources Planning Committee. He earned his Bachelor of Arts degrees from the University of Colorado, Boulder.
