

Stacy L. Maxa, CPA
Chief Financial and Administrative Officer

Stacy is a Certified Public Accountant who earned a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration-accounting from Sonoma State University.

Her areas of responsibility include finance, risk management, human resources, information technology, and properties. She works closely with board members and the senior management team to develop and implement financial and operational strategies, policies, and procedures that support the council's mission, strategic plans, and objectives.

For more than 20 years, Stacy held financial leadership roles for other nonprofit organizations with annual budgets that ranged from $6-$80 million. She helped contribute to their missions by improving financial outcomes. In addition, she established efficient financial reporting and controls, focused on cost analysis, and bridged the gap between the organizations' strategic goals and adherence to changing regulatory environments. She also furthered the organizations' success by developing collaborative relationships with bankers, vendors, and community members.

Stacy is a native of San Diego and a military spouse of 25 years. She and her husband, Bill, share their home with three rescue dogs. They enjoy traveling, hiking, and fitness.
